

ROOM 505 MURPHY'S THRONE IN BALTIMORE

Tammany Chief Directs Fight Against Bryan, as in Rochester.

HE DECLARES FOR PARKER

New Yorkers Ready to Fight for Judge as Temporary Chairman.

BALTIMORE, June 22.—Politicians will remember room 505 in the Hotel Emerson here long after the echoes of this convention die away. It is pretty apt to become as celebrated as room 212 in the Hotel Seneca at Rochester, where Charles E. Murphy sat silent during the preliminaries of the State convention of 1910 while the up-State leaders talked themselves out and then named John A. Dix for Governor.

For 505 is the throne room here, and in 505 Murphy is directing the fight that will be made against Bryan. It was from there that the announcement was made to-day that Murphy, Roger Sullivan of Illinois and Thomas Taggart of Indiana would stand firmly behind Judge Parker for temporary chairman.

Just before dinner Mr. Murphy received the reporters and talked rather more freely than his custom. Charles White, the veteran prizefight referee, who has been the outer guard of the leader's conference rooms for several years, swung open the door when Tom Smith, secretary of Tammany Hall, got the cue from the chief.

Mr. Murphy was at ease after a pleasant afternoon in the country and was chatting amiably with his retainers. J. Sergeant Cram lounged comfortably in a window seat. McCooley, the Murphy viceroy in Brooklyn, sat stiffly upright in a straight-backed chair, while ex-Sheriff Hayes, Congressman John J. Fitzgerald and other familiars of the leader helped to fill the room.

Hopes to Seat Parker.

"Will Judge Parker be named as temporary chairman?" was the first question shot at Mr. Murphy.

"I hope so," he replied.

"Are you supporting Parker?"

"I am, and will vote for him."

"How about the talk that Senator O'Gorman is being considered as a compromise chairman?"

"Haven't heard of that," said Mr. Murphy crisply.

"Is there any ground for believing that Judge Parker will withdraw?"

"I know of no reason why he should."

"People are saying around the hotel corridors, Mr. Murphy, that you and Taggart and Sullivan have made up your minds that if Bryan is to be squelched it will have to be done at the outset of the convention. How about that?"

The Tammany chief leaned back in his chair and laughed heartily.

ALTON B. PARKER, THE STORM CENTRE OF THE BALTIMORE CONVENTION.

Bryan, but that if Bryan insisted on making a fight against Parker he would get all the fight he wanted.

"Bryan will not be allowed to run this convention just because he is Bryan," said Sullivan.

New York men were in and out of room 505 all day. The main army of Tammany won't be here until Monday, but already there are many of the subchiefs on hand, together with some well known members of the New York delegation.

Mr. Murphy talked over the situation with Senator O'Gorman, John H. McCooley, William G. McAdoo, Congressman Sulzer, Herman Rader, State Chairman George M. Palmer, Patrick E. McCabe of Albany, Norman E. Mack, chairman of the National Committee, J. Sergeant Cram, Nicholas J. Hayes, Al Smith, the minority leader in the Assembly, James W. Fleming and others.

He also saw Tom Taggart of Indiana, Roger Sullivan of Illinois, Lieut.-Gov. Nichols of Ohio, who is directing the Harmon campaign, and other managers of booms, most of whom said they merely dropped in to pay their respects to the New York boss.

Crowds Follow Murphy

It already has been demonstrated that Murphy is a mighty interesting figure to Baltimore. Wherever he walks or rides there is a following crowd. When he takes his meals in public the restaurant doors are blocked by the curious. One of the first men who called on him when he reached town was the Mayor of the city.

Returning to room 505 he received callers until noon and then went for an automobile ride with Congressman Fitzgerald, J. Sergeant Cram, Philip J. Donohue and Col. John Hopkins of Chicago. They visited the convention hall, where Mr. Murphy praised the arrangements.

Murphy Dodges Camera.

Then, as the guest of Robert Crane of this city, Mr. Murphy and his friends went to the Green Spring Valley Club for luncheon. On the way the party was held up by photographers in front of the Hotel Belvidere. Some excellent views of the back of Mr. Murphy's head were obtained.

Persons interested in one boom or another have tried vainly to obtain from Murphy some indication as to how New York's money delegates stand. While he has declined to give any statement or to express an opinion it is known that the majority of the delegates favor Gov. Harmon, and after Harmon Mayor Gaynor. The Tammany leader is pursuing the same tactics here that he used at Rochester two years ago. He is waiting, he lets it be known, to see whom the leaders of the party want.

Preparations have been made for a lively demonstration when Tammany comes to town. There will be a parade of course, with Murphy leading. The arrivals of the Indians is expected to touch off the first big noise of the convention. So far no band has been in the streets.

TARIFF IS PARAMOUNT, ALL DEMOCRATS AGREE

Not a Baltimore Platform Builder But Makes It Leading Plank.

NO RECALL TALK HEARD

Much Depends on Bryan's Attitude After Preliminary Fight Is Over.

BALTIMORE, June 22.—There is as much doubt as to the form of the platform to be adopted at the Baltimore convention as surrounds the identity of the nominee. Many tentative planks have been prepared and are being carefully guarded while awaiting the time when they shall be cast into the general hopper.

The only question on which there seems to be a definite agreement is as to the tariff. All shades of Democratic opinion represented in the convention blend into one distinct color when the tariff is referred to.

All Democrats are agreed that the tariff must be put forward as the paramount issue of the campaign, that the Payne-Aldrich law is to be denounced and that the Republican tariff policy under President Taft is to be made to bear the responsibility for trusts and high prices.

This is the view of the Harmon men and it is acquiesced in by all others.

A significant thing about the views of the Bryan and the Wilson men is that there is no reference to free raw material in any of the planks that have been prepared up to this time as suggestions for the work of the resolutions committee.

The planks produced by the Bryan and Wilson platform makers suggest a tariff for revenue only. They assert that the only justification for imposing custom duties is for the purpose of raising revenue and demand that they be limited to the needs of the Government economically administered.

Just what the platform will finally contain will depend on whether the conservatives or the radicals control the convention. Both sides are claiming the control.

The personnel of the resolutions committee will have much to do with determining the form of the platform. There has been considerable talk to-day about the chairmanship of the committee. Mr. Bryan's friends are asking that he be made chairman of this committee. The Wilson men second the suggestion. The Clark men have not demurred, and some of the conservatives are in favor of giving Mr. Bryan the chairmanship of the resolutions committee if he desires it. Other names mentioned are Senator Charles A. Culbertson of Texas and Senator James A. O'Gorman of New York.

Mr. Bryan declined the temporary chairmanship in a letter sent to Chairman Mack, although he appears to be desirous of controlling the selection of a temporary chairman. He has let it be known in response to a suggestion made by Thomas Taggart of Indiana that he would not accept the permanent chairmanship.

Mr. Bryan has told some of his friends that he wants to be free to take part in the proceedings on the floor of the convention. But this would not be inconsistent with his holding the position of chairman of the resolutions committee. Mr. Bryan will participate actively, leading the progressives in the first fight that will come on the floor of the convention, namely, for the temporary chairmanship, unless that matter is adjusted by the voluntary withdrawal of Judge Alton B. Parker and the substitution of some other name, such as Senator O'Gorman of New York, Senator Gore of Oklahoma or one of a number of other names that have been mentioned.

The platform is involved in the outcome of these struggles in the early part of the proceedings on the floor of the convention. If Mr. Bryan proves himself to be in control of the situation the conservatives will probably acquiesce in his programme and let him write his own platform and name his own candidate.

If Mr. Bryan controls the situation the platform will be his own personal production. All suggestions that are now being made are therefore purely tentative and likely to be discarded.

But there are some significant things in connection with these suggestions of tentative platform makers. Even Mr. Bryan's closest friends have not come forward with any commitments to the initiative and referendum or recall of judges. There is a reiteration of the demand in the last national platform in favor of limiting injunctions against labor organizations, a reavowal of the Democratic policy in regard to the future disposition of the Philippines, which contemplates their independence as soon as the people are fitted for self-government, the usual demand for economy in public affairs, and the Democrats will take credit to themselves for originating in the House a bill limiting work on all Government projects to eight hours a day. This bill was introduced in the House by Congressman Hughes of New Jersey, one of Gov. Woodrow Wilson's boomers.

Senator Pomerene, who will probably be the Ohio member of the resolutions committee, is outspoken for making the tariff the prominent issue of the campaign and for demanding a reduction of duties to a revenue basis. He is also urging upon the Democrats here a declaration in favor of lending Government funds to banks by inviting competition and accepting the proposal of the bank which will offer the highest rate of interest for the loan upon approved security.

STOP THE ROW, SAYS BALDWIN.

Governor Tells Bryan to Let Republican Monopolize Fighting.

NEW HAVEN, June 22.—Gov. Simeon E. Baldwin to-day sent the following telegram to William Jennings Bryan at Chicago in answer to Bryan's message of yesterday concerning the selection of Alton B. Parker as temporary chairman of the Democratic national convention at Baltimore.

It does not seem to me that the course you suggest would promote harmony at Baltimore.

The Republican party has been visibly destroying itself at Chicago. The storm centre has been the action of its National Committee in planning for the organization of its convention. I should regard it as unwise to agitate a similar cause of difference respecting the action of the Democratic National Committee.

The Democratic party of Connecticut stands for three things:

1. Opposition to grants of special privileges to special interests.

2. Opposition to centralization of power at Washington by encroachments on the rightful spheres of the States.

3. Economy in public expenditures.

All those who believe that these principles should be steadfastly maintained belong in the Democratic party.

No party can expect to deserve success in the conduct of national affairs which is not broad enough to comprehend many who differ widely in their views on minor points. It will have a right wing, a left wing and a centre, all coordinate parts of one and the same political body.

The Democratic party stands united on the cardinal points above stated. It has chosen a National Committee with power to arrange for its national convention. I appeal to you as the great leader, for whom I have cast my vote in former Presidential campaigns, as one agreeing with you on these points though differing with you as to some others, to use your commanding influence to secure harmony at Baltimore, not by opposing the choice of any particular individual as chairman of the convention, but rather in line of emphasizing points of agreement instead of points of difference.

I am leaving the National Committee to act on the recommendation of the subcommittee as they may think most wise. Let the Republicans enjoy the monopoly of pre-convention personalities.

PARKER WON'T DISCUSS ROW.

Home for a Few Hours on His Way to Convention City.

Judge Alton B. Parker returned yesterday from up State, where he has been trying a lawsuit, and he would not talk about the fuss Mr. Bryan has tried to start over the selection of Judge Parker as temporary chairman of the Baltimore convention.

"I do not know anything about it," he said at the Grand Central Station. "As a matter of fact, I do not know anything about late national politics. I have been trying a telephone case for three weeks, and the only thing I know is from the bulletins the newspaper boys kindly slipped to me during the trial."

The Judge would not talk about chairmanships or speeches or ringing utterances or anything like that.

"It is not the time for me to discuss anything concerning the Baltimore convention," he said, "there will be discussion to-day, but I will go home first, and he showed his intention by hopping aboard a Madison avenue car bound up toward Fifty-sixth street, where he lives.

WILSON'S NEW YORK BOOMERS.

Will Gather in Cooper Union and Then Take Special Train.

The Woodrow Wilson mass meeting at Cooper Union to-morrow night will have all the characteristics of a State or national convention except that they will not be able to nominate a candidate for the Presidency and neither will Gov. Wilson himself be there.

They will have New York State districts, however, into counties, every county under a banner and a delegation with every county. Also they will have transparencies and scrolls upon which will be printed Wilson mottoes and legends. The chief motto, according to everybody at the headquarters yesterday, will be "Wilson and Win." They said they would take great care not to add a "d" to it.

At headquarters, too, it was announced that beyond all doubt the northernmost, southernmost, easternmost and westernmost counties of the state are for Wilson for President. This had been shown by communications received during the day.

Word was received from Dr. C. M. Marnes of Rouses Point, which is certainly as far north as New York goes, —Dr. Marnes being one of the four Democratic leaders of Clinton county—that he and a delegation will be down to sit under the county banner and ready to go to Baltimore to show that Wilson can carry the pivotal State next November.

Eric county, which may be called pretty well west, weighed in with an announcement of the coming of a big delegation. Some of these delegates will be Thomas E. Boyd, Stephen T. Lockwood, John T. Abbott, George G. Davidson, Jr., A. J. Elias, William Barrett Wright, Jr., John L. Ahern and Julian Park.

Monroe county, which is Rochester, will send William L. Balsman, Howard E. Mosher, Milton E. Gibbs, ex-County Chairman John H. Bailey and a half dozen others. Washington county will send Daniel J. McHenry, Democratic leader, and a delegation. Broome county will send City Clerk, Farmer M. Hopkins of Binghamton, ex-State Committeeman H. G. Jackson and half a dozen more. Richmond county, which is about the furthest south New York goes will be represented by a delegation headed by ex-Assemblyman William Allaire Shortt, James E. Kelly of St. Lawrence county telegraphed from Ogdensburg: "Sentiment in our county is for Wilson. He will command the independent as well as the party vote and that will win in this election."

Gov. Wilson notified the committee yesterday that he will not be present Monday night. He feels a delicacy about attending a meeting where the talk will all be about him and of such a nature that he need not get mad about it.

All arrangements have been made for the special train which will carry a committee of 150 to be selected by the meeting to Baltimore immediately after the meeting adjourns on Monday night.

JOAN OF ARC IN BALTIMORE.

Suffrage League Plans Parade and Appeal to Democrats.

Mrs. Nellie B. Van Slingerland, founder and president of the Joan of Arc Suffrage League, returned from Baltimore yesterday optimistic over the results of her labors for the cause among the Democrats and her plans for the big suffrage parade that will march through Baltimore's streets on next Thursday. Mrs. Van Slingerland will head the line of march carrying the ten foot Joan of Arc flag with its yellow ground and black star. Right behind her will come Joan of Arc on horseback wearing the same armor as was worn in the New York parade. There will be drums and chants and transparencies and lanterns, for the parade is to begin at 7 o'clock in the evening and the women expect to get home by midnight.

A Baltimore branch of the Joan of Arc League was organized by Mrs. Van Slingerland with Mrs. Ella La Motte, the grand marshal of the parade, as president; Mrs. R. E. Foster and Mrs. Calvin N. Gabriel, secretaries; Mrs. W. Stuart, Mrs. S. Johnson and Mrs. Donald R. Hooper, vice-presidents, and Miss L. T. Truesdell, treasurer.

Mrs. Van Slingerland and Mrs. Calvin N. Gabriel descended on Norman E. Mack on Friday to arrange for a hearing before the resolutions committee of the convention in regard to a suffrage plank in the Democratic platform. Mr. Mack promised that the women would have a hearing as soon as the permanent committee is picked.

Then they went to Champ Clark's headquarters. There a boomer suggested that it was the psychological moment for them to go to Washington. Mrs. Van Slingerland suggested that they go to the convention in person, get the resolutions committee to add a suffrage plank to the platform, and then return to Baltimore on Tuesday. She thinks it would be a good idea.

A GROUP OF DEMOCRATIC LEADERS AT BALTIMORE

JOHN A. MASON AND NORMAN E. MACK.

WILSON HARRY AND IRWIN HARRY.

"You shouldn't ask that question," he said.

Several questions that Murphy was disinclined to answer were put frankly to Roger Sullivan immediately after he had talked with Murphy. Mr. Sullivan let it be known that if Bryan insisted on the elimination of Parker there would be a rousing fight that would be carried to the floor of the convention.

Mack Wanted Parker

"Judge Parker will win," said Mr. Sullivan. "We put up Parker because Norman E. Mack asked that Parker be nominated. There is no politics in the matter. Judge Parker is not for or against any man. There is no conservative or radical issue. There is no intention on our part to take advantage of anybody. These people, Bryan and his followers, know that our nominees must have the states of New York, Illinois and Indiana to win."

"Is that a threat?" Mr. Sullivan was asked.

"No, it isn't," he replied. "I believe Parker will be elected on Monday night when the National Committee meets. That may not end the scrap. I look for it to go to the floor of the convention."

Others who talked with Murphy, slipping quietly in and out of room 505, were Senator O'Gorman and Congressman William Sulzer. The Senator said there was nothing new in the temporary chairmanship situation.

"Do you expect that Bryan will start a row?" the Senator was asked.

"There will be no unseemly rows in this convention," he said. "I am satisfied Mr. Bryan will not do anything that is not for the best interests of the party."

Bryan Can Have Fight.

Congressman Sulzer, after a talk with Mr. Murphy, said he thought every effort would be made to make friends with
